SHARING YOUR DEFORESTATION ASSESSMENT WITH YOUR PROCESSOR

RUMINATI

Created an account with Cibo Labs? Here's how to take the next step and securely share your deforestation assessment with your processor through Ruminati.

Don't have a Ruminati account yet?

1. Create your account at app.ruminati.com.au/register.

2. a. Click Businesses in the left-hand menu, then Create new business. Click Import business from Cibo Labs and enter your Cibo property ID to pre-fill your details, or add them manually.

b. Once you have set up your business, click View details next to your property, then open the Deforestation Assessments tab. Confirm the business is linked to your Cibo Labs account. If it's not, click Link Now and add your Cibo Property ID (this should only be unlinked if you set the property up manually).

3. Click Data Sharing in the left-hand menu. If your processor's already requested your data, you'll see it under Current Sharing: check what's being asked for, then click Share. If you cannot see a share request from your Processor, please contact your Processor directly.

Already have a Ruminati account?

1. Log in as normal and click Businesses in the left-hand menu.

2. Click through to the relevant property (haven't set it up yet? Follow step 2 in the previous set of instructions), open the Deforestation Assessments tab, and click Link Now to connect it to your Cibo Labs account with your Cibo Property ID.

3. Click Data Sharing in the left-hand menu. If your processor's already requested your data, you'll see it under Current Sharing: check what's being asked for, then click Share. If you cannot see a share request from your Processor, please contact your Processor directly.

What's Ruminati?

Ruminati is an agricultural data platform built by producers, for producers. It's where you bring your farm information together and decide exactly what gets shared, and with who, including your processor. You can also put together an emissions report on Ruminati if you want one: that's kept completely separate and it won't be shared with your processor unless you choose to share it yourself. Ruminati is always free for producers and their advisors, and producers stay in control of their data at all times.
